Market Commentary

Boursa Kuwait extended its winning streak into July 2025, marking the third consecutive month of gains. Unlike previous months, where performance was led by large-cap names, the latest rally was driven by strong momentum in mid- and small-cap stocks. The Main Market Index surged 5.8%, and the Main 50 Index climbed 5.3%, significantly outperforming the Premier Market Index, which posted a modest gain of 1.2%. The All-Share Index ended the month up 1.9%, closing at 8,617.8 points. The shift in market leadership from large caps to mid- and small-cap stocks suggests increasing investor risk appetite and broader market participation. Corporate earnings supported the bullish sentiment, with 23 listed companies reporting Q2-2025 results. Strong corporate earnings, particularly from the banking sector, have reinforced confidence in fundamentals. In the banking sector, seven out of nine listed banks posted Q2 results, showing profit growth of 8.5% y-o-y for the quarter and 3.5% for 1H-2025.

On a year-to-date basis, Kuwait remains one of the best-performing GCC markets, with the All-Share Index up 17.0%, second only to Dubai. Gains were led by an 18.6% rise in the Premier Market Index, while the Main Market and Main 50 indices also delivered solid double-digit returns of 10.2% and 11.7%, respectively.
